Mt. Vernon and the Circus.

Where a few people are gathered together it is more than probable that the I. J. man will be there or thereabout. On Wednesday Sells & Renfrow's . Enormous Railroad Shows exhibited at Mt. Vernon and a crowd of course was there and as a consequence the above referred to I. J. man was there also. People who have the opportunity of going to circuses as seldom as the Rockcastleites do are their heads when the band begins to play and the monkey and clown get in their funny business, but notwithstanding this, the itinerant newspaper man got the attention of a portion of the large crowd, and besides adding a number of new names to his list, was fortunate enough to drop a goodly number of shekels into the I. J. coffer. There is not a surrounding county that gives the "Old Reliable" better or more liberal support than Rockcastle and it is needless to say that it is duly appreciated.

The show was first rate and was attended by nearly every man, woman and child in the town and county. Most all of the features advertised were presented and if there was dissatisfaction of any kind I did not hear of it. The usual "shell-game" and "three-card-monte" when Stanford was as dull and sleepy a dently dull for them. Francis Curtis man was there, but business was evidropped a "twenty" with them and squealed, but when an officer appeared D. B. CAMPBELL. the "shell-game man" was "out of sight." Mr. Curtis is a man of about 50 years, but it seems that he has not had quite enough experience yet. Perfect order was observed during the entire day and it was one that will not soon be forgotten in Mt. Vernon.

This will serve also the purpose of making more and richer fertilizer, and thus partially repay its cost. Another way would be to have all the droppings in the pasture spread with hoe or rake twice a week, which would cause it to dry up before they had reached the pupa stage, and as they feed only upon the moist dung they would soon die .-

THE TROTTING HORSE.

Cause of Present Depression In the Trotting Horse Market. "What is the matter with the trotting have led to the present depression in the trotting horse market would take more time than I can spare at present," said Mr. Sibley. "In a general way the fault lies mainly at the door of horsemen and horse breeders, which I will illustrate as I progress in my diagnosis. The public must understand that there are at the At $7 to Insure a Living Colt. present time hundreds of men breeding horses, come for profit and a few for the pleasure they find in the occupation. However, out of the hundreds engaged in the business only a small percentage breed intelligently. Too many breeders are ignorant of and indifferent to blood lines and the science of blending them, the result being that the market is glutted nowadays with trotters that cannot trot, with horses that ought to be drawing plows and lumber wagons.

"Then, again, the 'standard' craze has transgressed all reasonable limits. Individuality has too frequently been merit than blood to sustain it. With the sacrifice of individuality there have been foaled a large number of scrubby, misshapen, undersized and oftentimes blemished animals, which in turn have been sent to the auction mart. Nine times the track or road driving, too light for $2,150 for her. draft or general purposes and too small and homely for the carriage.

"Another cause for the present depresbidding at auction sales. There are auc tioneers that are honest with seller and buyer, but I am sorry to say they are largely in the minority. It is within my own observation when I state that I know of horses sent to the auction blocks by their owners with the distinct understanding that if they did not bring a certain price they were to be bid in, while at the same time it was given out in advance by the auctioneer that the sale was to be positive and without reserve. Would be purchasers have learned these things, have become suspicious, lost confidence, and as a rule are stay ing away from auction sales or not bidding if they do attend them.

"Last, but not least, the trotting horse industry is suffering from dishonest racing associations and unfair and dishouest judges in the stand. When a racing association will permit wealthy breeders Jackson. and owners of horses to enter with the distinct understanding that if their horses do not win races in their class no entry fee is to be demanded of them. while others are compelled to pay, according to the rules, to the last cent, reasonable prices. Not only does it disgust honest men who breed horses, but these things deter gentlemen who would be willing to invest large sums of money in a breeding stud, tend to cripple the sale of stock and by implication the breeding business in general. In addition to this, more horse papers are published than there is a healthy demand for, the consequence being that the rottenness which I have illus rated is either defended or ignored. Caly a few are honest and outpurify racing associations and the entire turf paraphernalia and return to honest and open and above board methods, until every breeder erects a high standard living colt. of breeding and breeds up to it, the slump in the trotting horse breeding business will continue.

"Then you think high stud fees cut no

figure in the depression?" not know of a stallion standing for a saddle mare. Frank is about 15 hands high fee today or that stood for one for the past year which is not worth the price asked. Nor do I know of one that did not have his book full. Why, I paid a saddle gelding rings and at Danville, too; $1,000 fee for a service to Axtell. I not also combined ring at Danville, one of only paid the money willingly, but con- his geldings, shown by Dock Drye at WOM CORPUS sider that I got the worth of my money. Stanford, competing with both sexes, When St. Bel was alive his fee was $500, and even at that figure his bookings were at a premium. I have no doubt that high as are the service fees of Arion, Allerton, Kremlin, Stamboul, Axtell, Sidney and numerous other high class stallions, their books will fill rapidly, which is the best evidence in the world that their fees are not too high."

"You have some of the blood of The Moor in your stud, have you not?" "Yes, and value it highly for breeding purposes. It is hot blood, but virile and full of that mysterious quantity called nerve force. I have a daughter of Beautiful Bells by The Moor that is very fast, but inclined to nervousness like her dam. By the way, I have been for some time investigating the pedigree of Belle of Wabash, dam of The Moor. I have got far enough in the matter to satisfy myself that she was not of Morgan blood, as is asserted by some. She was nearly if not quite thoroughbred and sired by Ballinger."

"How will the trotter of the future be

"With just enough iron to protect his feet. My impression is that in racing he will be compelled, in a majority of cases, Abdallah 16. to wear boots to protect himself, although their weight is a disadvantage to extreme speed. Mr. Hamlin, the great Buffalo breeder, illustrated to me not long since how much of an impediment they are. Prince Regent was trotting a race in the mud with boots on that weighed 14 ounces. He was tiring, and dered the boots off, and Regent went in Gerrymander 235. likely to lose the race. Mr. Hamlin orand won it."

"How much lower is the trotting record to go?" for the mile, and perhaps a little lower even than that, but it will take time.

The bicycle sulky has proven a great auxiliary to extreme speed. In my opinion, it is from three to six second of the state in his three-year old form. Stands at "It will probably get to two minutes ion, it is from three to six seconds faster than the high wheel sulky .- Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Description:— Silver Tip was foaled May 5, 1888, is a beautiful red bay, 15½ hands high, fine mane and tail, which he carries to perfection. We claim for this young stallion that he has more natural style and action than any stallion in the countryin a word, he is a model in form and as a saddle horse. It can be readily seen that this is one of the fanciest bred saddle stallions in the State, with the very best saddle blood coursing through his veins, backed up on both sides by thoroughbreds. In addition to this stallion's saddle qualities, he has a bold, open trot, which eminently recommends him as a sire of high class combined horses. We can readily recommend him as a fine breeder, as this will be his third season and his colts will compare favorably with the get of any horse in the country.

Eureka Cheif is a worthy representative of a horse that founced as great a family of saddle borses as any stallion that ever made a season in Kentucky, viz: Coleman's Eureka. Coleman's Eureka was never beaten in saddle and combined rings, and he imparted to his get size, color, style and finish. Eureka, though a young horse, has rings, and he imparted to his get size, color, style and finish. Eureka, though a young horse, has won about 50 blue ribbons at Kentucky Fairs. Eureka Cheif has never been shown, was not broken to saddle until last year; but judging from his size, style, color and action, we predict for him the same success that has attended his sire and grandsire in show rings. His dam Mag, by Blood Cheif Jr., was a winner in all classes and by a horse that never sired a mean one. This horse is bred right to sire horses that will command the attention of all intelligent horsemen. He is good individually and can show for himself in any company. HON. ALFRED GUTHRIE, an ex-member of the Indiana legislature and a very wealthy man, did not take the late Mr. aire may be made to give up some his wealth to soothe the broken heart of the guileless widow, whom he so heartlessly abandoned.

WHEN Col. E. Polk Johnson said before Jim McKenzie's appointment that he had a "cinchona Peruvian mission," it was and is still regarded as the best pun of the season. We attempted to work it in our last issue on the colonel's chances for the appointment for which he went to Washington, but an intelligent compositor, who is an Englishman and can never see the point, set it up cinchona "on the" place, thereby wrecking the beautiful pun. It may be retributive justice, but we did not take it that way, and immediately proceeded to reduce the number of intelligent compositors, who are the veritable thorn in the flesh of ali editors. Due notice of funeral will be given.

THE German editor of the Samariter at Lexington is hiding out to escape the vengeance of the outraged populace. His sheet is printed in German and is consequently read by but few outside of that nationality. The Leader went to the trouble to translate a few of the articles and when it printed them a sensation was produced. One of them bitterly traduced American women and cli maxed it by saying "a married woman was no better than a concubine." The scoundrel's measure has been taken for conflict with the constitution. a spring suit of tar and feathers, to not resorted to.

THE Louisville Times' Frankfort correspondent says that "Laurie J. Blakely, the Kenton county scintillator, is here on business, made to appear important by his mysterious manner." The Capital informs us, however, that the object of his mission was to secure an introduction to his member of the Legislature, who has been in Frankfort so trict. long he had forgotten his face. This may be true, but we opine that the real reason for the old man's visit was to refresh his taste as to the difference between Frankfort beer and that obtained "over the Rhine."

frauded of their just due, for the designs are more than designs this season. They are so many perfect pictures, each after its kind. I have seen pictures painted by artists which were not nearly so artistic and true to nature as are some of these. There is a dark ground-sometimes black india silk-with the most perfect flowers scattered over it, as if thrown by a baby's hands, some of them grasp and had wilted under the warm caress. The tiny daisies, cowslips or violets are marvels of delicacy, and then there are others where there are broken off blossoms of the pink wax begonia, tiny sprigs of parsley leaf pattern and broken fronds of maidenhair fern, russet and reddened under too bright a sun. There are others with small branches of pussy willows in bud and bloom, and perfect orchids in their gorgeous coloring, and pale, brittle leaves. Tiny rosebuds lying on a rose geranium leaf that is partly green and partly faded yellow are seen in one pattern, and pink pinpernel makes another. So do the delicate white chickweed and apple blossoms and clover blossoms both white and red, and a few velvety pansies. But the taste of the artists seems to have turned rather toward the despised and overlooked beauties that lie about us. One beautiful pattern of a gray green ground has pine needles strewn over it, some of them singly and others in bunches of five or six all in a heap. There is no set figure, or if there is it is not repeated often enough to permit the whole to appear at one view.

One most exquisite pattern had a pearl gray ground, with irregular pale purplish blue leaves in two shades and moss half opened pink daisies or some other litical or literary distinction. small flower, which makes an artistic contrast and pleasing whole. A lovely pink batiste was made up as if it was the most extravagant silk, with six gathered flounces, each headed by a band of bias silk, changeable old rose and gold, the cape revers and stole ends all of the same. These bands are sewn over stiff muslin and then loosely cat stitched on so that they can be removed if necessary to have the gown washed, but it could, barring accidents, be worn one season at least without requiring it. WOMAN'S WORLD IN PARAGRAPHS. "In Skilled Labor We Are Destined to Conquer," Says Miss Pierson. Miss Belle Pierson, a compositor on the New Albany Ledger, has lately been appointed state organizer of the Federation of Labor for Indiana. A late number of The Courier-Journal contains a delightful sketch of this young lady. Manchester, of Manchester, Eng.; Gallant Colonel Henri Watterson's paper has always a good word for women workers. It is the duty of Miss Pierson in her new office to travel from town to town in Indiana, call mass meetings. make speeches and organize associations of working people. From The Courier-Journal's sketch we find that Miss Pierson has pluckily supported herself at typesetting since the age of 16. She now supports her mother also. From has soared to preparing the matter that is put into type, and this aspiration has struck Miss Pierson too. She writes considerably for the press on labor questions, particularly those matters in which workers of her own sex are concerned. She expresses it as her firm conviction that in the departments of skilled labor women are bound to conquer. So they are. But one statement I regret to find this brave, bright girl making. It is that woman is woman's worst enemy in the labor ranks, and that when a girl engages in a work hitherto much as possible by her own sex. I have not found it so, certainly. I have found that the dearest, warmest, truest sympathizers with working women are women tnemselves. Perhaps in that funny but rigid system of caste prevalent in small per towns a printer girl would be looked down on by lazy girls and married women who call themselves the social leaders of the ridiculous little aristocracies they always set up, but in the great throbbing life of the city people of intelligence are recognizing the dignity and worth of the woman who earns her own living.

Miss Pierson's statement about women's being against working women reminds me, however, of an experience of my own in a certain funny little town. It was a village of a few hundred inhabitants. Fate and my own adventurous disposition had set me down there. I determined to learn typesetting at the office of the village newspaper. Two or three women who regarded themselves of more importance than the Vanderbilt and Astor ladies have ever seemed to do dis approved of the idea. I was waited on and informed in due order that the ladies would never think so much of me again or care to "associate" with me if I went into that newspaper office. "Then I'll be sure to do it," I answered, and I did it amused me not a little that society was going to sit on me. It always does amuse me when anybody, man or woman, tries to sit on me. It gives one a feeling of pride and triamph to know that every portion of the beautiful building devoted to the women's department at the World's fair was designed by women, its construction superintended by women and its contents arranged under the direction of women.

Don't fall into that lazy, despicable way of saying that men can learn things and understand things that women cannot. Say always, I can understand anything that a man or anybody else can.

Mrs. Harriet Strong of Whittier, Cal., last year raised 2,000,000 plumes of the beautiful pampas grass so much used in decoration and sold them nearly all. One million will adorn the buildings of the World's fair, and she exported 650,000 to Europe. Mrs. Strong has been the first person to grow these pampas plumes extensively in North America. Formerly they all came from South America. The last presidential campaign was lucky for Mrs. Strong, 100,000 of the plumes being used in parades and decorations.

Mrs. Beazley, a Philadelphia woman, invented the cooperage machine which turns out thousands of perfectly finished barrels every day. She is also the inventor of a life raft which may be tossed into the sea in any shape, but will always right itself instantly and float safely. It contains pockets which the sea cannot enter that are always filled with cruelty to animals, and you have been water and provisions for use of the ship-by the fire in a brown study. "About investing some money I have in real estate," replied the drummer. "How much?"

"All I've got; about $1,000." "Where is the real estate?

"In a western town. You saw that man I've been talking to for an hour or so and who left here awhile ago?"

"Well, I met him on a train today, and he got me interested in a town out west called Hesperides. It's only about 3 years old, he says, but it has been coming up at a phenomenal rate. He had maps setting type many a printer's ambition and stuff here this evening till you couldn't rest, and he offered me five acres within half a mile of the center of the town for $1,000."

The clerk devoted a moment to wrestling with a thought.

"What's the population of the place?" "He didn't say, but he said it was 25 times greater than it was in 1890, when the first settler came in. He said, too, that the number of houses had increased 100 per cent each year for the three since the first lots were laid out."

"That's a good showing," said the clerk, "a fine showing, but did he say done only by men she is hindered as how many houses there were put up the first year?"

Live Stock Points.

The Breeder's Gazette publishes an interesting list of trotting sires and dams. The stallion list includes horses that have sired 10 or more colts able to trot in 2:30 or less. The list numbers 129, and at its head is the famous old Electioneer, with 120 colts to his credit that come within the standard figure. Electioneer is now 25 years old. Besides the stallion list, The Gazette gives also a list of trotting mares, with themselves a record of 2:30 or better, that have produced colts equal to the standard performance at the trot. The colts as well as the dam are given. At the head of the mare table is Beautiful Bells with seven colts whose records range from 2:161 to 2:241. In the 2:30 list are 187 colts whose dams were themselves 2:30 trotters. The list of mares would have been still longer only that, as The Gazette observes, mares that could trot in less than 2:30 earned more money on the track than they could have done as breeding animals, and until quite recently they have been kept on the track till past their prime for production.
